NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to be heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and soon taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept on the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpelde on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpelde speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpelde effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness, in killing it. Herpelde stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 5c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelde Co., Detroit, Mich.

Instructor Charged with Murder.

The Cambridge, Mass., police last night issued a warrant for the arrest of Erich Muentner, an instructor in German at Harvard University, on a charge of murdering his wife in Cambridge about two weeks ago. It is alleged that Mrs. Muentner's death was caused by arsenic. The body was taken to Chicago on April 17, but the case was not made public until yesterday evening. Muentner is 35 years old and lived in Cambridge. His wife was formerly Miss Leone K. Krons, of Chicago.

The attention of the authorities was called to the case just after the woman's death, April 16. Ten days before that time a child was born to Mrs. Muentner, who was attended by a faith-cure doctor and by two nurses of the same cult. The physician was a Mrs. Nicholson, of Winchester. The nurses are both residents of Cambridge—a Miss Case and Miss Derrick. Some time after the child was born two regular physicians, Drs. Frederick W. Taylor and Herbert McIntyre, were called. Both decided that Mrs. Muentner was suffering from some ailment of the stomach. They prescribed for her, but later, it is alleged, both withdrew because they ascertained their directions were not being followed. Mrs. Muentner died April 16.

Muentner applied to Dr. McIntyre for his signature to the certificate of death, but Dr. McIntyre decided that the case needed investigation and notified the medical examiner, who performed an autopsy and sent the stomach to Prof. W. F. Whitney, of the Harvard Medical School. Muentner and the two nurses were then permitted to take the body to Mrs. Muentner's former home in Chicago. The party left Cambridge April 17.

Yesterday a report of the analysis of the stomach was received by Medical Examiner Swan. Professor Whitney reported that he had found marked traces of arsenic and District Attorney Sanderson notified the Cambridge police. A warrant for Muentner, charging him with the murder of his wife, was issued and the Chicago police have been notified to hold the man if he can be found. Arrangements are being made to send out circulars containing a complete description of him.

The authorities are investigating Muentner's history, and it is probable the Chicago police and the Lawrence (Kan.) authorities will be asked to assist them. Muentner was born in Germany and formerly taught school in Chicago. The university authorities stated last night that Muentner was appointed instructor in German nearly two years ago, while he was stationed at the University of Kansas. He at no time had acted as professor at Harvard, but received his appointment as instructor temporarily—that is, from year to year. He was serving his second year in Cambridge. He has not resigned. Since his departure, April 17, his whereabouts has not been positively known.

Charged with Murdering Rival.

Proceeding on the theory that Letitia Glover, the woman found slain Tuesday night in Sylvester Luttrell's room in Bristol, Va., had been murdered in a jealous rage by another woman, the police yesterday at the corner's inquest presented damning testimony against Jamie Ramsey, whom it is alleged, Luttrell had abandoned for the Glover woman, and who was arrested yesterday upon suspicion.

Disinterested witnesses testified to having heard Jamie Ramsey make repeated threats against Letitia Glover. According to one witness, she said on one occasion, when referring to her hatred of Letitia Glover: "I will kill her if it sends me to hell."

It also was testified that Jamie Ramsey had confessed that on several occasions she dressed in men's clothes and hid near Luttrell's room to see Letitia Glover enter.

While this testimony was being presented, the police searched Jamie Ramsey's house and found a bloody handkerchief and an apron with splatters that apparently had been made by blood, but had been washed off, the condition of the apron being such as to indicate that the washing had been confined to the stained spots.

Luttrell's children were on the witness stand yesterday afternoon. They said that their father had not been inside their home in four years, and that they had carried his meals to him all that time. Luttrell's estrangement from his wife, the children stated, dated back to the time when he began to keep company with Jamie Ramsey.

"My mother has suddenly been made young at 70. L. Gilpatrick, of Danville, Mo. Greatest restorer of liver and kidneys right, purifies the blood and cures Malaria, Biliousness and Weaknesses. Wonderful Nerve Tonic. Price 50c. Guaranteed by E. S.
